Guest presentation: Kevin W. Moore Photography

Kevin did a slide show of some of his work from various local airshows and the Duxford Airshow in England, one of the premier airshows in the world especially for warbirds and vintage aircraft. Kevin talked about the many great opportunities he has had to photograph unique aircraft from unique vantage points, including several air-to-air shoots in warbirds. The vast array of aircraft in his photo-works includes almost every allied warbird imaginable and dozens of special purpose aircraft including the Martin Mars water bomber. Kevin will do air-to-air photoshoots free for individuals or groups if they provide the planes. I assume the photos are for sale afterward, but you can contact him for details if desired. Kevin also does nature and wildlife photography. Kevin's photos are for sale if you wish to contact him email: <mailto:kevinmoorephotogrphy@hotmail.com>

Guest presentation: Tony Kelly and Todd Mitten

Tony and Todd of Sport Plane Inc. represent the Ikarus advanced ultralight in Canada and the Ikarus Flight Centre in Brantford. They showed us a number of photos of the Ikarus ultralight in action and described its great features including 600lb payload, 48" wide cabin, 100mph+ cruise on a Rotax 912 or 912s, short take-off distance and detailed a number of other options available for the plane. At $85k CAD it's one of the lowest priced advanced ultralights available, including many kit planes. Check the Ikarus out at: www.ikarus.ca
